WATER CO. GAVE $5,500 TO CITY

THAT MUCH OF NET EARNINGS IN-TO GENERAL REVENUE FUNDS

FINE 3-YEAR RECORD MADE BY BOARD P. W.

Two Very Dry and One Wet Year
Have Been Met—Plant Should Earn $7,000 in Future.

The financial statement for the year, 1915, of Manager J. H. Martin of the City Water Plant shows that the net earnings of the plant, notwithstanding the cost of damage done by the high waters, were very nearly $6,300. Except for the high water damage the net earnings would have been nearly $7,300.

The following is the statement for the last year:

The total receipts for the year from operation were $16,801.08. The receipts from other sources were $322.07. The balance on hands in the operating account at the beginning of the year was $1,477.24. These amounts make a grand total of $18,600.39.

The cost of operating for the year, 1915, outside of repairs was $9,501.82 and the cost of repairs was $1,393.20, making cost of operation and repairs $10,895.02.

There was expended for new construction $1,360.56 and there was paid over to the general revenue fund of the city $5,500. The total of the operation and repairs and what was expended for new construction and what was paid over to the city was $17,755.58, leaving a balance in the operating account of $844.81 on January 1, this year.

It is explained that the cost of repairs as above stated includes an amount expended to repair the damage done by the high waters of last summer to the pump house and machinery of $941.61, and that of the amount expended for new construction the sum of $1,341.79 was for material and work of installing the new sand point system of water supply.

This makes a total of $2,283.40 expended for items which are uncommon and are not to be expected in the future. The amount expended as new construction should be considered as earning as it adds to the value of the plant.

May Expect $7,000 Annually.
It is therefore safe to predict that with the natural increase of receipts the net earnings of the plant in the future can be expected to run around $7,000 or better after expending a fair sum each year for repairs (and petty construction).

During the three years that the city has been operating the plant we have had two of the driest years ever known in this section and one of the wettest which unusual conditions have cost approximately $6,000. Regardless of this, however, there has been a goodly amount of net earnings each year which has either been expended in new construction or turned into the general revenue fund of the city. The city has also during all this time had free water service for public drinking fountains and sprinkling.

With the vexing problems of these unusual conditions there has also been the greater problem of a sufficient supply of good water to solve and probably the most valuable achievement of the water board is what has been accomplished in this direction as it would seem that this question has been solved and that Maryville can now boast of a reliable supply of first class water.

There has accumulated in the water bond and interest funds a surplus of $10,500 and it is estimated that the present levy will pay the interest and retire the bonds in about three or possible five years before the expiration of the twenty years for which they were issued.

With such an excellent report for the past year and in the light of the results to date it seems a safe prediction that the water plant is due to make good and do for the city all that its friends expected of it.

Board Serves Without Pay.
Another pleasing feature for which the people, the mayor and the aldermen as well as the water board, are entitled to much credit, is that the water plant has been kept absolutely free of politics. Regardless of the change in mayors and aldermen the water board is still made up of the same men who were originally appointed and though they have accepted re-appointment from time to time reluctantly, as they are all busy men and serve without pay, they have consented to remain on the board and give the best they have, at least, until such time as the plant has been thoroughly established on a profitable basis and the so-called "biggest job" which Maryville has had on its hands for the past ten years—that of providing a dependable service of good water at a moderate cost—has been disposed of.

The members of the board are E. L. Townsend, M. E. Ford, S. G. Gilliam and R. L. McDougal.

GOOD OLD-FASHIONED CASE

Short vs. Walter From Elmo in Justice Court Was Stirring—Defendant Won.

A damage case in Justice W. L. Johnson's court on a change of venue from Elmo lasted from 11 until 6:30 o'clock yesterday. It was characterized as one of the old-fashioned kind of trials when every one was out for "blood."

Gene Short, represented by Ellis G. Cook, was suing Harve Walter for $77 which he asserted was due him for labor. The defendant, represented by W. G. Sawyers, filed a counter claim that Short was overpaid. More than a dozen witnesses testified in the case. The jury held that the defendant's counter claim was just and awarded Mr. Walter judgment for $16.50 for over pay.

HAND IS HER SIGHT

ALL LOVE AND INTELLIGENCE IN TOUCH TO MISS KELLER.

INNER VISION HER LIFE

Thought Constantly Reaching Out from Famous Woman Who Will Be Here Thursday Night.

"The highest form of all love and intelligence, to my mind, is in touch," said Miss Helen Keller recently in a magazine article. She cited the desire of a cat to be rubbed or to arch its back and rub against a friend.

"My hand is my sight and hearing," she continued, "I am often asked if it is not awful to be blind but truly I do not realize my blindness and lack of hearing. I believe that I get the same kind of joy from my hand that others do in sight and hearing."

Miss Keller, who will speak at the First Methodist church Thursday night, says that all the passages in the Bible about the laying on of hands and similar to that in the Psalms about God's hand upholding us, are very dear to her. She also makes a plea for the sense of smell, saying that it seems to be a fallen angel among us and that we seldom think of it except in connection with disagreeable odors. To her, however, it is one of the great avenues to the world.

But she says that the real essence of human experience is the inner vision and it is in that world that she really lives. From the day when Miss Anne S. Sullivan let her fingers pass over a doll and then over the letters "D-O-L-L" to the time when she sat upon the roster of Radcliffe College as a graduate, the great inward reaching out to high thoughts and conceptions has been greater to her than the

CO. F WAS "LOOKED OVER"

Result of Inspection Will Be Received in About Six Weeks—Some Changes Expected.

Co. F was looked over by the Colonel of the regiment last night, John D. McNeely of St. Joseph. But they will not know until about six weeks just what the result of the inspection was. A detailed report will be received in that time.

The Fourth Regiment band under the leadership of Prof. T. B. Mauding was out in uniform and paraded on Main and Fourth streets in review before Col. McNeely. Twenty-three men answered roll call. About sixty men were present at inspection and although they were rather "rusty" on some points of drill the work was about the average of the small city militia.

After the inspection, Captain Kyle Phares spent considerable time with Mr. McNeely going over the needs of Company F and what should be done to make the work more worth while and attractive. It is probable that some radical changes in the personnel of the company will be made.

Lieut. Oscar W. Hoop of the U. S. Army and Major A. V. Adams of Jefferson City assisted in the inspection. The visitors came here from Trenton where they inspected a company.

THAT CHURCH MERGER.

Many arguments are being heard now concerning the merger plan of church service and Sunday School which the Presbyterian church will inaugurate in Maryville the first Sunday in February. Some of the reasons for favoring it perhaps have not been made public before, so here they are.

"I favor the plan," said one member, "For the very good reason that I can stay in bed one hour longer on Sunday mornings. You will note that the one service begins at 10:30 whereas Sunday School formerly began at 9:30 o'clock. I am strong for the merger plan."

"I have a better argument in its favor," said another member the other day. "The preacher under this new system will feel the fact that Bible study is still to follow his discourse; hour sermons will be no more. He will have to cease as the time for the Sunday School part of the program draws nigh."

"You have overlooked a most essential detail in this discussion, gentlemen," added an individual but shortly removed from the charming East. "The custom of having Sunday School following divine worship is very prevalent in the eastern section of these United States. We shall have the force of precedent behind the experiment."

"Well," said a fresh one, "I can chip into this discussion another very strong reason why the merger is good. It will stop so much singing. In the old days when the church service was a recreation for the community as well as a call to thoughts of higher things, that was all right."

"But in these days of pianos, victrolas or a musician in every family, I don't see any good cause for taking a half of every service up with song. Especially when we sing the same songs over Sunday after Sunday. Life's too strenuous; too much to do. Let's cut out a lot of the non-essentials and put more time on the things worth while."

Having said which and as much, the impromptu, extempore and temporary debating society disbanded.

Missouri has more banks than any state in the Union. Why? Because Missouri banks are safer, we have fewer bank failures and our people do not hesitate to trust their money with their local banks. Why is this? Because of the Missouri bank inspection laws which were enacted by a Democratic legislature and signed by a Democratic governor.

O, Inconsistency! One of thy middle names must be politics. Some of the men who are clamoring hardest for action in Mexico are opposing Wilson's plan of preparedness.

It was kind of the 350 Wall Street stock men to "boo" and hiss the name of Wilson. It will make such good campaign material in his favor.

"IT IS GENTRY'S TIME"

SO SAYS ALBANY LEDGER OF J. W. MCKNIGHT.

Paper Gives Reasons for King City's Being Supported for Senator.

Gentry county has not had a representative in the state senate for almost fifty years, and it seems to us that this year she should in all fairness be allowed to select one of her citizens to make the race for state senator without a contest from the other counties in the district.

All through the years of the past half century Gentry county has stood out as the whitest Democratic spot in the district, giving a majority for the Democratic candidate at every election. No other county in the district can show such a record. And during these fifty years not more than three or four Gentry county citizens entered the race for the nomination. Instead of seeking political office the Democrats of this county have been contented to stay in the party line and help swell the Democratic majorities and total vote.

Since 1902 Gentry county is the only one of four counties in the district to return a Democratic majority at every election. In 1904 this county gave a majority of 176 for the Democratic candidate for state senator, and it was the only one of the four to give him a majority all the other counties joining in a Republican victory.

In 1908 Gentry county's majority for the Democratic candidate was 344; Atchison's, 99; Worth's, 11; and Nodaway county returned a Republican majority of 457.

In 1912 Gentry county returned a majority of 1,675 for the present incumbent, Senator Anderson Craig.

With such a record as this, is it anything more than justice that Gentry county should be given the honor of presenting one of her citizens for the position without opposition. Senator Craig has announced that he will not seek a renomination, and so far as we know there has been no one presented from the other counties. Can any other county in the district present a good, valid reason why Gentry county should not have the nominee at the next election? If so, we would like to hear it.

Believing that in all fairness and that the showing of the past records of Gentry county should have that privilege, we take great pleasure in presenting to the Democratic voters of the First Senatorial district Hon. James W. McKnight of King City, the present representative from Gentry county. Mr. McKnight has not personally announced himself as a candidate for this office, but by reason of his experience, his legal learning and his general standing as a citizen and Democrat he is the best qualified man in the district, so far as we know, for this responsible position.

Mr. McKnight, during his two terms as representative at Jefferson City, was appointed to some of the influential committees of the House, and made himself felt in the general debates and in the deliberations of that body. He is a practicing attorney and has one of the brightest minds among the younger members of the bar. He has a record on whom all good Democrats of the district can unite. He has not aligned himself with any petty factional fights, and when he comes before the voters of the district at the November election he should poll the full strength of the party.

Gentlemen, Democrats of the First senatorial district, we take pleasure in presenting for your consideration and support, Hon. James W. McKnight of King City.—Albany Ledger.

SUICIDE CHANGED MIND.

Taste of Carbolic Acid Showed Smith He Didn't Want to Die.

Indianapolis.—Edward G. Smith, aged twenty-five, of 632 North Jefferson avenue, decided to commit suicide, but quickly changed his mind after he had tasted a small quantity of carbolic acid.

The customary fateful note, in which he attributed his despondency to a quarrel with his wife, was found in his pocket.

Smith staged his attempt at suicide in a drug store at Illinois and Washington streets. After the clerk had sold him the acid he turned around and held the upturned bottle to his lips. A moment later he gave out a shriek, threw the bottle and remaining bit of acid at the clerk and then fell against the counter. An ambulance took him to the city hospital.

Physicians at the hospital said that Smith's tongue was slightly burned, but that he had not swallowed any of the acid.

ONE LOOK WAS ENOUGH.

Farmer Flees When He Sees Bride by Mail Get Off Train.

Kansas City.—When Timothy Riley, farmer, got one look at his bride to be the romance was "busted." Riley drove his brand new farm wagon up in front of the Union station, hitched the team and then stood guard at the exit door.

He wore a red carnation, by which sign the bride to be was to know him, all the love making having been done by mail. The bride, who was to have come from Nevada, was to wear a Palm Beach suit.

A few moments later a Palm Beach suit, garnished with numerous boxes and bundles, hove in sight. Riley took one look, snatched the carnation from his buttonhole and fled. The bride to be appeared to be fully twenty years older than he, which probably was the excuse for his hasty flight.

"TIPPERARY" SUNG IN LATIN IN NEW YORK

Night Pupils and Professor Collaborate on Songs.

New York.—You can't keep a good song down. When it has been translated into all the living languages it takes up the dead.

If whoever wrote "Tipperary" will visit the New York evening school in De Witt Clinton high school, Tenth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, he will hear there almost any night this lyric hit—and wonder what has happened to the darling of his brain:

Longa via ad Tipperarium,
Longa via ibo;
Longa via ad Tipperarium,
Ad puellam quam cognosco.

Vale Picillium,
Vale Leicester Forum
Longa via est ad Tipperarium
Ibi est cor meum.

Also, if he listens longer, he will hear "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier" and the other songs of the moment done into the purest Latin of Manhattan.

The explanation, if he asks one, is that Professor Horace C. Wait, teacher of Latin in both De Witt Clinton high and the evening school, has discovered the way to interest his pupils is to bring Latin up to date. Of course, Caesar's legions may have sung the same song as they realized how far it was from London town to Ireland, but even so, thinks Professor Wait, to put "Tipperary" into Horace's tongue brings the past more in line with the present.

For several sessions lately the boys and the professor have collaborated on the translations of popular songs and then have sung them to detect imperfections in the rhythm. They will continue to adapt Broadway's best singing songs to the Appian Way as long as the songs and the Latin verbs hold out.

As for "Tipperary," even the German lads in the class join in on the "Ad puellam quam cognosco."

Among Many Items Testator Admonishes Children to Be Upright.

Winchester, Ind.—The will of James Tobin, a Union City resident, who died recently, has been filed here for probate in the circuit court. Among the many items the testator admonishes his children to walk uprightly and says:

"In making this last will and testament and in making this disposition of my property I beg to leave this advice and admonition to my children and to each of them:

"Second.—Be faithful to your religion.
"Third.—Love one another.

HEIFNER LONG SALOON FIGHTER

MARYVILLE MAN LEAD DRYS IN LAST MAON ELECTION.

WAS TIMES-DEMOCRAT EDITOR TWENTY YEARS

Believes Overconfidence Great Danger for Those Who Are Fighting Traffic Here.

J. J. Heifner, who formerly lived in Macon, but who has been a resident of Maryville since last July, has travelled over the state for several years as an adjuster for a large fire insurance company and knows something of the conditions of the wet and dry territory. He was a leader of the Macon drys in the last election there.

His long experience in fighting the saloon and the liquor traffic make his opinions of great interest to Maryville at this time. He consented to make a statement to the people of this city and county through the Democrat-Forum. It follows:

I had thought as I was somewhat of a stranger in your midst I had better not take too prominent a part in your local option fight; but the Lord hates a coward.

I have gone through three fights against the saloon within the past ten years, and if you think that Maryville will go dry simply because you want it to go dry you are reckoning without your host. It is well to pray and ask the Lord to assist and direct you in this fight, but my experience in fighting the saloon, is, you can go farther if you carry a big stick also.

They are an enemy that never sleeps and it will take the united energy of every dry voter in this town from now until the polls close on February third to win this fight. They will prove to be the most resourceful and reprehensible foe that you ever measured steel with. They don't quit the fight until the last vote is cast.

That old time serving satchel, full of 5, 10 and 20 dollar bills will greet you on the morning of the election, and its sides will be swollen like a poisoned pup, returning from the swill tub; a contribution from the breweries and distillers for the moral and up-building of your community and every vote seller and bribe taker, and political crook, after he has been seen, will be flushed with that new patriotism, that gives him the right to vote to protect the homes and firesides against the benign influences of the preachers and long-haired women.

The supreme court of Missouri has stated that the saloon is an outlaw, could not come into court with clean hands, therefore had no standing, and this is the question you are voting on. There is no place in business, religion or morals for the saloon, then why should the voters of Maryville open up their hearts and give it an abiding place here?

Was Editor of Macon Paper.

For 20 years I was editor of the Times-Democrat at Macon. For ten years of that time there were 14 saloons and ten banks. The saloons were predominate for they permeated every line of business. Even the deacons and elders who sat in the amen corners of the churches were undecided as to whether they would get snake bit or not. The court record was replete with crime and misery traceable direct to their nefarious influences. Their reign became intolerable and the Times-Democrat turned its 13 inch guns on them (for that was the biggest caliber made at that time).

The firing on Fort Sumpter could not have created greater consternation. Democratic politicians who had been voter's straight since Noah crossed that little pond in his bark, could see nothing but ruination for the party and that young upstart who was trying to dictate to them what they should eat and what they should drink, etc.

Republican bosses could see a breach in the party that would give them the offices, and they would continue to do what the Democratic politicians had already done. There was no difference between the two. The Times-Democrat decided that a town that had to live on blood money, a county that could not exist without the saloon, and a party that had to instill enthusiasm into it through the neck of a whisky bottle could perish so far as it was concerned, and the fight went on with unabated fury.

Proved Him a Horse Thief.

An election was ordered for the county outside of the city of Macon. They accused me of horse stealing and proved it. But the fight went on. The Times-Democrat grew from an ordinary county newspaper to be the biggest and best country newspaper in the state at that time. Subscriptions

MISSOURI SUFFERERS FIND GREAT REMEDY

Thousands needlessly suffer from stomach ailments, handicapped in their work and pleasure. The stomach is the mainspring of life and the body cannot run without it.

You want to be well quick. A great many people in Missouri and thousands all over the country have found the way to health by the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. The first dose shows results. Here are the words of two Missourians:

Mrs. J. B. Trullinger of Norborne, Mo., wrote: "Words cannot express my appreciation of your medicine. I have felt fine all summer and fall. Am gaining weight."

W. T. Jennings, cashier of Bank of Bois D'Arc, Mr., writes: "Please send four more bottles of the stomach remedy. Both my wife and I use this medicine and think it truly wonderful."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

more than doubled. The election came off and the county went dry by 2,700, the largest majority given by any county in the state for local option.

A few years later Macon county was the only county in Northeast Missouri that gave a majority for the prohibition amendment to the state constitution. The Times-Democrat does not deserve all the credit for this great victory. Thousands of good men and women enlisted in the fight and did all they could to win. The school children even took a part in the fight. Macon county is still dry and I believe will remain so.

A second fight soon started to close the saloons in Macon. The council and mayor were wet. The city had been in the hands of the saloon for 50 years. Although we had several times the required number of petitioners to call an election they, by one subterfuge or another stood us off for 18 months. Finally the Times-Democrat issued an ultimatum to them giving them a certain time to reply. They ordered an election, but they had held it off long enough to get in their deadly work, by colonization and other methods, and they won by 207 votes. They waited until the enthusiasm in the county abated and then took the position that it was useless for them to fight as the county was so overwhelmingly dry the county seat would not dare defy public opinion.

Overconfidence Defeated Drys.

By this method they deceived the dry forces into believing that they had already surrendered but on election day they were out with their well trained forces and won as stated.

These saloons continued in Macon for 4 years, and two years ago, we took another hitch at them. We fought them for six weeks day and night. Every influence from every side was brought to bear against them, and with all this effort we only defeated them by 37 votes. So you can see what you are up against.

I do not know whether this is interesting to you or not, but am giving it to you to put you on your guard. Conditions here might be different to what they were in Macon, I do not know that is up to you.

There is another side to the saloon question that far exceeds the business side to my notion, and that is the moral side. If it is revenue you want no doubt men could be found who would give you $25,000 a year for the undisputed right to open up a few gambling dens, and probably an additional $25,000 for the privilege of selling the morals of our men and the virtue of our women. If you are going to put your town on the auction block for revenue, why don't you sell it to the highest bidder. The influence of one could not be more demoralizing than the effect of the other.

The drunkard's mind would fall back abash, if you suggested to him the sale of his wife or daughter's virtue for revenue. By the same reasoning why should not the good mother feel aggrieved and indignant at the voter who by his vote proposes to sell her innocent boy to the booze joint for a few paltry dollars in revenue?

Why Not Try Comparison.

Maryville has tried the saloon and only by comparison can they tell whether they are beneficial or not. Let them do away with them, and then if the city gets wrecked on the shoals of disaster they can invite the saloons back. There is no danger of them becoming so offended if you reject them this time that they would refuse to locate again amongst you. The idea that to fill a man's skin full of whisky makes business good belongs to the distant past and has no place in the minds of thinking people.

Did you know that Maryville is the only town north of the Hannibal and St. Joe railroad in Missouri that tolerates a saloon? Chillicothe, Brookfield and Palmyra, situated on this line, have saloons but Kirksville, Trenton, Edina, Gallatin and a hundred other towns of good repute have discarded them as bad partners.

Ten years ago Columbia and Kirksville had from ten to a dozen saloons each. I speak of these two because they may be compared with Maryville as educational centers. They were respectively, towns of 5,000 and 8,000 inhabitants. Today Kirksville claims 9,000 and Columbia 14,000. They did this without the saloon. Why could not Maryville do the same thing?

Opportunities for Maryville.

Maryville ought to be a town of 10,000 inhabitants before the taking of the next census. I am not ready to say it is the best town in the state of its size, but I can very truthfully say it is surrounded by the best country and the largest opportunities to become the best town in the state, if we do not prey too much upon the credulity of the public.

People are not moving to town or sending their children to towns, where there are saloons, to give them educational advantages. They are getting just as far away from these influences as possible. Then why should we expect the saloons to benefit us, when it is not even fashionable any more to get drunk or have saloons.

The women helped to make Macon dry, and you are making a big mistake by not enlisting them in this fight. The anti-suffragist use as one argument why the women should not vote, they could never carry arms. Now don't you believe that the women won't fight if you give them a chance. They pursue the Beast where angels dare not tread, and if I was a woman the mother of some innocent boy, you could not keep me quiet. I'd put on the armour of a righteous cause, reincarnate the spirit of Carry Nation and there'd be something doing from now until the polls closed.

But you asked me about Macon county—wet or dry. This is my answer: 10 banks, 14 saloons, jails full of criminals and homes saddened with the tears of widows and orphans, or 18 banks overflowing with deposits, no saloons, the jails empty, and families once the care of the public and charity boards happily reunited. This is Macon county. You can take your choice. The way is so plain a way faring man though a fool need not err therein.

"FARM TO TABLE" PLAN

K. C. POSTMASTER SOLICITS THE NAMES OF PRODUCERS.

Name and Products May Be Sent to Him or Left at Maryville Postoffice.

To further the "Farm to Table" movement Postmaster General Burleson has authorized the Kansas City post office to act as intermediary between the producer and consumer of farm products by which means it is hoped to reduce the cost of living and at the same time provide the producer with a ready cash market.

This plan is being carried out in the interest of public welfare. All the postmasters in Kansas City district are requested to give their co-operation. The producer is asked to send his name to the postmaster of whom he is a patron and the kind of products he has for sale, eggs butter, dressed poultry, fruits, country lard, cured meats, and vegetables. The Parcel Post rates from within 150 miles of Kansas City on 20 pound can of lard is only 24 cents. Four cents for the first pound and one cent for each pound thereafter.

Parcel containers can be bought from the merchants, information about shipping may be obtained from the postmaster. The success of the "Farm to Table" movement will depend largely on the full weights, honest goods, and square dealing on the part of the producers.

ILLITERATE FOLKS ARE BEING TAUGHT

Work Being Carried on Into Dark Corners of America.

KENTUCKY TREATED FIRST

Moonlight Schools Established in That State in 1911 and Now Work is Being Copied in Other States—Founder Tells What Work Means To Backward Towns.

Lexington, Ky.—"Amusing indeed have been the various impressions that have prevailed throughout the country in regard to moonlight schools," writes Cora Wilson Stewart, founder of the famous moonlight schools of Kentucky. "Some have imagined them to be schools where children studied and played and scampered on the green like fairies in the moonlight. Others have believed them to be ideal courtship schools."

It was in the obscure position of county superintendent of Rowan county that Mrs. Stewart began four years ago the work that has carried the alphabet and spelling book into the darkest corners of her state. Today she is president of the Kentucky illiteracy commission, author of "Country Life Readers" and has the satisfaction of seeing her work copied in many other states. How that work began and what it has meant to the backward thousands of her state she herself tells:

"When I was superintendent of Rowan county schools I served as secretary to a number of illiterate folk—a mistaken kindness. I ought to have been teaching them to read and write. Among these folk was a woman whose children had grown up without education, except one daughter, who had had limited schooling. She had gone to Chicago and there had profited by that advantage at least which the city possesses over the rural district, the night school. Her letters were the only source of joy that came into that aged mother's life, and the drafts which they contained were the only means of relieving her necessities."

"Often she brought the daughter's letters over the hill, seven miles, to the county seat, for me to read and answer for her. After an absence of some six weeks she came in one morning fondling a letter. I anticipated her mission and said: 'A letter from your daughter? Shall I read and answer it for you?'"

"With dignity and pride, she replied, 'I can answer it for myself—I've learned to read and write.'"

"In amazement I questioned her, and this is the story she told: 'Sometimes I couldn't get over here to see you, and the "cricks" would be up between me and the neighbors or the neighbors would be away from home, and I would not get a letter read and answered for three or four days, and anyway it just seemed like that wuz a wall 'twixt Jane and me all the time, and I wanted to read with my own eyes what she had writ with her own hand. So I went to a store, and I bought a speller, and I set up at night till midnight and sometimes till day light, and I learned to read and write.'"

"Incidents like this led directly to the establishment of the moonlight schools. The public school teachers of the county were called together. The fact that there were 1,152 men and women who, the schools of the past had left behind was dwelt upon. The teachers were asked to volunteer for night school service, to open their schools on moonlit evenings—to give these people a chance. This they cheerfully agreed to do, and on Labor day, Sept. 4, 1911, these teachers celebrated by visiting every farmhouse and every hovel, inviting people of all classes to attend the moonlight schools."

RAT BIG AS A CAT.

Sexton Thinks a Large Rat Ate Up Two Smaller Ones.

Hazard, Ky.—John Sexton tells a rat story. He says he baited his rat trap one night, and the next morning he found that two of the rodents had become ensnared, so he thought he would just let them remain in the trap over the next night, and perhaps they would attract others.

On the second morning John again inspected his trap and found—only one rat, but he, as John described him, was as large as a tomcat! The two caught on the previous night were of ordinary size—"full grown," John said. There was a mystery. "What became of the first two rats you caught?" was asked, and John solemnly declared that "the big rat had eaten up the other two."

BOY SKATERS IN PERIL.

Fall Through Ice, but After Much Difficulty Succeeded in Getting Out.

Crosby, Minn.—Clinging to the edges of the ice, the freezing waters of Serpentine lake chilling them to the bone, Trig Burud and Oscar Anderson, Crosby boys, recently battled for their lives for some time, until, realizing that no help was at hand, they used their pocketknives to gain a hold on the slippery ice and managed to pull themselves to safety.

Although badly chilled, they suffered no severe consequences from the experience. The boys had been skating and ventured out where the ice was thin.

WITHOUT FOOD SIX WEEKS.

Farm Hands Discover Emaciated Man in Straw Stack in Michigan.

Escanaba, Mich.—That he had remained more than six weeks in a straw stack without anything to eat was the story told by Charles Kowbowski, who is being nursed back to health at the Delta county almshouse. Emaciated, the mere shadow of a man, Kowbowski was uncovered by men who were working on a farm near Gladstone.

Kowbowski, who is of German Polish birth, came to this country two years ago. He has worked in various cities of the upper peninsula, but he could not find steady employment. When he reached Isabella his shoes were worn out and his feet were sore. He was also weak from hunger when he came upon the straw stack, which he decided to make his home. He does not remember all the details of his long stay in the stack. He says he remembers going out three times to get a drink of water, but that he had nothing to eat.

He lost the power of swallowing, and liquid food had to be given to him by artificial means. The power to swallow has now returned and with it strength to tell of his suffering.

GOOSEBONE PROPHECIES.

Maine Prognosticator Issues Some Interesting Winter Weather Talk.

Passadumkeag, Me.—Professor C. M. Anderson, Passadumkeag's famous goosebone meteorologist and prognosticator, has completed his investigations of this year's weather. He says:

"The winter will be cold and very windy. There will be frequent storms of wind and snow, frightful storms along both sea fronts and over many parts of the world. Snow will be until late in the spring, which will be very late. The summer will be hot, with great electrical storms. There will be great earthquakes and volcanic eruptions."

"The disturbances now among the inhabitants of the earth are, as a matter of fact, only a small depression at present. The real music will be in full swing in 1918, when it will reach its climax."

ANCIENT SEED BRINGS UP A LARGE SQUASH

Had Been Sealed Up in Room by Cliff Dwellers.

Los Angeles.—Rivalling the discovery of the Aztec bean nearly fifteen years ago, seed has been found in the prehistoric cliff dwellings of Arizona, along the Verde river, that has been planted and has grown into a huge green, extremely warty squash, which has been named the "Aztec." The squash was grown from a seed hundreds—perhaps a thousand—years old and in the Verde country is considered a wonder of the age.

The discovery was made by John G. Allen of Cherry, Ariz., and in a most novel manner. Allen was fishing along one of the tributary creeks of the Verde, and his skill with the rod seemingly failing him, he decided to see if he could not make his trip a profitable one by hunting the ruins for pottery left by some prehistoric tribe.

Making his way into one of the larger rooms of the cliff dwellings he noticed a portion of the wall that appeared as if some time or other it had been closed up. Further investigation proved that he was right, for he easily broke through the wall at this place and discovered a small room or recess which contained pottery, corn cobs and about a dozen seeds that resembled ordinary squash seed. The room had been sealed so tightly that not even a mouse could make its way into it.

It was too late to plant the seeds at the time of their discovery last year, so they were not planted until early last spring. Of the twelve seeds but one came up, and the plant from it carried one large squash which weighs twenty-five pounds.

FLIES KNOW DINNER BELL.

Drummer Told They Stop in Stable Until Summoned.

Kansas City, Mo.—A salesman who had been working in a small midwestern town wished to catch a train which passed through it about half an hour before noon and asked the village landlord to serve him before the regular dinner hour.

Soon he was admitted to the dining room, where a fairly good meal was spread before him. But flies were so numerous that the landlord had to stand behind his chair and shoot them with a napkin.

"Great Scott," exclaimed the salesman, "I never saw so many flies!" "Flies!" retorted the landlord scornfully. "Shucks! This ain't nothin'. If you want to see flies just wait till I ring the bell for dinner. They're all out in the stable now."

Catches Fox With Bare Hands. Attica, Ind.—Ren Wood, a Richland township trapper, captured a full grown red fox with his bare hands a few days ago. The fox was feeding among a drove of hogs, where Wood could not shoot at it. Wood then crept toward it. The noise of the feeding swine prevented the fox hearing his approach until he was near enough to catch it by his flowing brush.

CARE OF SICK GIVEN

HEALTH SERVICE SUGGESTS SIMPLE RULES.

Good Ventilation, Little Visiting Cleanliness and Attention Important.

The widespread prevalence of sickness throughout the country suggests some simple rules for taking care of the sick. Not every person can have a well-trained nurse. The majority of patients must be taken care of by members of the family. The following suggestions may be helpful:

The sick room should contain little furniture. All surplus rugs, draperies and furnishings should be removed. This gives more space and makes disinfection easier after the sickness is over.

All cases of sickness, including pneumonia and catarrhal infections, do best in a cool, well-ventilated room. Ventilation without draft should be provided for by means of window boards or similar devices to throw the air up toward the ceiling.

The patient should be kept clean and quiet. A single thin garment, such as a nightgown or nightshirt, is all that is needed. The building up of sick persons with plasters, rags and woolens is bad from every standpoint.

Patients should not be annoyed by having to ask for everything. At the same time, they should not be asked every few minutes whether they wish something. The nurse, guided by the physician, should know what the patient needs and supply it at the proper time.

Visiting is, as a rule, to be tabooed. When conversation is necessary, it should be in a moderate tone of voice without excitement. Whispering is generally worse than loud talking. Food, prepared well and daintily, should be brought to the patient at the necessary time. The patient should not be asked what he wishes to eat.

The sick person should not be annoyed by hard-luck stories, either the personal experience of the nurse or of the neighbors.

The nurse should invariably obey the instructions of the physician.

If the disease is one in which the sputum carries the contagion, the sputum should be promptly disinfected by burning, if possible. Handkerchiefs should either be burned at once or dropped into boiling water. All diseases are more contagious by direct contact than otherwise. The nurse should always remember the danger of spreading the infection to other persons and endeavor to prevent it. Health service of the University of Missouri.

But the record as "the youngest Juliet" must be given up by both of them in favor of Mary Anderson, whose first appearance on the stage was made as Juliet when she was sixteen. ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Fixes Sour, Gassy, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

GOOD CROWD AT CLYDE FAIR

Conception College Orchestra Gave Program.

The Fair at the Clyde church is drawing a large crowd of generous buyers, for the fancy work, and all kinds of useful things that the women of the church have to sell. A feature of the Fair is the parcel post booth in which are several hundred articles from practically every state in the Union, which were donated by friends of the members of the church.

Last night the Conception College orchestra gave a program and will give another tonight.

Kansas City Stock Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Jan. 25.—Thursday was an off day in the cattle market last week, otherwise markets were steady to higher each day, butcher cattle showing strength. The decline of Thursday removed all the gain steers had made in a week, and took off half the advance on butcher cattle. The tendency Friday was stronger on all kinds.

Supply today is 13,000 head, market steady to 10 lower on beef cattle of all grades, steady to higher on stockers and feeders. The best steers here today sold at $8.30, and bulk of the best steers now sell at $7.25 to $8, prime steers quotable up to $9 or a little better. The weak spot in the trade today is Chicago, with 25,000 cattle, otherwise supplies are not excessive, and the tendency toward strength lately evident in the cattle market would not be interrupted except for that.

Good heavy cows sell up to $7, medium heifers $7.50 choice $8.75, bulls $5.75 to $6.35, veal calves $9 to $10.50. Two or three trains of Colorado cattle arrived today, partly yearlings and two of good breeding, the yearlings at $7 to $7.40, and a drove of white face breeders, 1,000 lbs. average, at $7.80, medium to common beef steers $6.85 to $7.50. About 50 cars of Iowa and Minnesota cattle arrived, and sold at $6.50 to $7.25 for stock steers, cows and heifers $5.50 to $6.50. Stockers and feeders averaged about steady last week, after a strong opening, and shipments were rather light, owing to reduced supply. Prices prevailing, $6.25 to $7.85 mostly, are not much different from a year ago. Hogs advanced 20 to 30 cents last week, net, and the market is 10 to 15 higher today. Top today was $7.55, paid by both order buyers and packers, and bulk of sales ranged from $7.20 to $7.50. A feature was heavy buying for shipment to Eastern killers, about 3,000 going to that trade. Eastern killers favor the hogs produced in Kansas City territory, because they kill very satisfactorily. Except at Chicago, total receipts are moderate and the situation looks strong.

Kansas City's receipts are running lighter than other markets, and with a more varied demand here, local prices are exceptionally strong, only 10 cents under Chicago today. Sheep and lambs held up firm last week in the face of demands for lower prices from buyers. The run is 12,000 today.

These observations will enable any surveyor to get the correct magnetic bearings at any time in the future.

WASHINGTON HAS PUZZLE IN WOMEN

Officials' Wives Stand Reception Strain Better Than Men.

MRS. WILSON NEVER EXCITED

After Shaking Hands With 4,226 Persons She Appears as Fresh When Her Duties Are Completed as at Start. Mrs. Lansing Only One to Leave Line Early Because of Painful Shoulder.

Washington.—"How can the women stand it?"

This was the question asked hundreds of times by the guests at the first really truly White House reception that has been given by the present administration, which recently took place.

How they did no one knows, but they did, and the new mistress of the White House, after shaking hands with 4,226 persons, appeared just as fresh and happy when her duties were completed as she had at the start. It was not a question of being buoyed up by the excitement of the occasion either, for the next morning Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was up bright and early and at 10 o'clock was paying a friendly visit to one of her older, but close personal friends in this city.

When it came to the men the matter was different. It is safe to say that the strain of the reception was harder on the president than days of the utmost worry over the various international questions that would cause the ordinary man to come close to the breaking point of nervous energy. The members of the cabinet, though not compelled to go through the handshaking which was inflicted on the chief executive, also showed the strain, and when the end of the long line was reached were each and all ready to take a long rest.

Only one of the ladies of the cabinet showed any effects from her exertions. Mrs. Lansing left the line early in the evening as the result of a shoulder which she recently strained while playing golf. This brought Mrs. McAdoo to the position of second in the reception line, and she showed herself to be completely at home in the gracious manner in which she greeted her father's guests. The petite Mrs. Burleson was one of the most attractive of the women who received. Sparkling and vivacious, she appeared at the end of the evening as though ready to go through a similar experience at a moment's notice.

There was just one disappointing feature—at least to some of the guests. They did not get anything to eat. A simple supper had been prepared, but when it came to midnight none remained. The waiters had done their best, but the appetites of those in the first ranks of the crowded rooms had been too hearty, and even the attempt to divide sandwiches in halves failed to bring the needed relief.

Washington society, however, was happy again. It was the first of the old time White House functions held for years. It will be by no means the last and will be followed by a revival of dinners, receptions and other entertainments which promise great joy to many, especially to the caterers and florists, who see a return of good times after a long term of lean months in their lines of business.

SAW AND CHOP FOR CHURCH.

Wood Enough to Heat the Place For the Winter in One Day.

Columbus, Ind.—How to get wood to fast the Garden City Christian church through the winter bothered some of the members of the church, which is situated two miles southwest of this city.

Then somebody suggested a "wood chopping and sawing." The members of the church turned out, cut down trees, sawed the logs into the proper lengths and then split the blocks into stove wood. Mrs. Mack Neptune, one of the members of the church, served dinner at noon. The Rev. W. H. Book, pastor of the Tabernacle Christian church of this city, used a crosscut saw a part of the day.

HOODOO SHIP MAKES MONEY

The Old Alcoa Has More Than Paid Her Purchase Price.

San Francisco.—The old Alcoa, formerly hoodoo freighter of the former Pacific Mail, has blossomed out as a real war baby.

This steamer, which in times of peace used to be tied up in the lower bay with cold boilers for long periods, has earned $200,000 that was paid for her when she was re-briqueted the California. Also she has earned $90,000 more.

Furthermore, the California—nee Alcoa—has now been chartered to a powder company at $1,700 a day, or $15,000 a month, or $612,000 a year, or more than twice as much as her owners paid for her.

It is stipulated in this last charter that she shall ply only between neutral ports, which is taken to mean that she will become a nitrate carrier between South America and the Du Pont powder mills in the United States.

KISS FOR A JUDGE.

Carpenter's Daughter Gave Him a Good Smack In Open Court.

Pittsburgh.—Congratulations showered on Judge James McF. Carpenter when he took his place on the bench of the common pleas court recently did not make nearly so great an impression on the throng of well wishers as a resounding kiss implanted fairly and squarely on the jurist's lips.

Judge Carpenter, who was elected last November for a full term of ten years, had been sworn in and had stepped down to shake hands with the politicians in the courtroom. As he left the bench his daughter, Miss Alice Lazear Carpenter, stepped up, threw her arms around his neck and kissed him. "Oh, I'm so proud!" Miss Carpenter exclaimed as the judge disentangled himself.

"Eh, umph! And so am I," her father replied, as he reached for a dozen hands stretched in his direction.

BREAKING RECORDS IN SALMON EGG TAKING

Hope This Year's Fish Run In Puget Sound Will Increase.

Olympia, Wash.—All the salmon egg taking records of this state were smashed this year as the result of the enormous number of eggs obtained from the Columbia river and the Grays harbor districts, according to State Fish Commissioner L. H. Darwin.

Unprecedented November storms and high water were handicaps, but on the Columbia river the state procured more than 45,000,000 salmon eggs. On Grays harbor, where the Chehalis hatchery last year took 22,501,000 eggs, there have been procured this year to date 44,000,000 eggs, and all are now in the hatcheries. The three large salmon hatcheries on Puget sound are busy taking eggs, and it is expected the record will be broken in this district, or close to 50,000,000 eggs procured.

It is expected that the hatcheries this winter will have 150,000,000 salmon eggs to care for, and the number of young fry will be the largest ever nurtured in the state's history.

The entire product of the hatcheries this winter will be released in Puget sound next fall. By so doing it is hoped to increase the run of salmon there in spite of the heavy increase of salmon taken in recent years.

TO TAP GILA'S UNDERFLOW.

Dry River Bed Will Be Made to Yield Water For Irrigation.

Palomas, Ariz.—S. H. Woodruff of Los Angeles and associates plan to utilize the underflow of the Gila river, near here, for the reclamation by irrigation of a big tract of land.

A number of caissons will be sunk in the dry bed of the river to the water level, and large pumps will be installed to lift the water to the surface and deliver it into the irrigation ditches. The pumps will be operated by electricity.

Formal application for the withdrawal from public entry of 14,000 acres that are embraced in the proposed irrigation scheme has been filed in the United States land office here by the state land commission, as required by the Carey act.

HONOR FOR NEW BRITISH OFFICIAL

H. L. Samuel First Professing Jew to Be Home Secretary.

NOT A STRANGER IN OFFICE

Successor of Sir John Simon Spent Four Years in Home Department as Parliamentary Undersecretary of State—Is Not Only Member of His Creed in Cabinet.

London.—For the first time in her history of nearly 2,000 years England has a professing Jew in the role of principal secretary of state to the crown.

True, Benjamin Disraeli attained the dignity of premier and died as the Earl of Beaconsfield. But he was a member of the Church of England, like his father before him, whereas Herbert Lewis Samuel, who recently succeeded Sir John Simon as secretary of state for the home department, has remained a strict adherent to the faith of his forefathers.

Nor is he the only member of his creed in the cabinet, for in the shuffle following the retirement of Sir John Simon owing to his objections to the compulsory military service law for single men. Herbert Samuel's first cousin, Edwin Montagu, has been advanced from the secretaryship of the treasury to the chancellorship of the duchy of Lancaster.

Edwin Montagu, it may be remembered, contracted a matrimonial alliance last summer with Lord Sheffield's youngest daughter, the Hon. Beatrice Venetia Stanley, who abjured Christianity for the sake of Judaism in order to wed her husband, who would by the terms of his father's will have been divested of his large fortune had he married a Christian.

Herbert Samuel will be recalled by many in the United States as having paid a prolonged visit a little over two years ago while holding the office of postmaster general.

His family was founded by his grandfather, Louis Samuel, who kept a small watchmaker's shop in Liverpool. He had two sons, Moses and Edwin. Moses, marrying Ellen Cohen, whose father was on the London Stock Exchange, eventually established a banking house in Broad street, London, associating his brother Edwin in the business. In 1894, on being created a baronet, Moses Samuel obtained a license from the crown to change his name to Samuel Montagu and in 1907 was raised to the house of lords as Lord Swaythling.

The Right Hon. Edwin Montagu, the new chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, is his second son. The late Lord Swaythling's brother Edwin declined to change his patronymic. He left two sons, the elder of whom is Sir Stuart Samuel, member of parliament for the Tower Hamlets division of London and who received a baronetcy in 1912. Sir Stuart's younger brother is Herbert Louis Samuel, the new secretary of state for the home department. He is married to his cousin, a daughter of the late Ellis Abraham Franklin.

Herbert Samuel, who was born at Liverpool in 1870 and who as a Balliol man graduated with first class honors from Oxford, does not come to the home department as a stranger. He spent four years there as parliamentary undersecretary of state, from the defeat of the Unionist administration in 1905 until 1909, under Lord Gladstone and thus is intimately acquainted with the workings of the office. It was during that period that he made his mark by the skill with which he piloted the so called children's act through the house of commons. Afterward, although he had come to be regarded as a specialist in the problem of child legislation, he showed by the clever manner in which he handled the liquor licensing measure in 1908 that he knew quite as much about beer as about babies.

He was rewarded in the following year with a seat in the cabinet as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster and twelve months later became postmaster general.

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if Cross, Sick, Feverish, Constipated.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.
